INTRODUCING EX, A SLEEK NEW ALUMINUM OUTDOOR TABLE & BENCH DUO

Normann Copenhagen proudly presents Ex, the latest addition to its expanding outdoor furniture collection. Designed by Danish designer Simon Legald, Ex Table and Bench combine functionality and durability with a contemporary yet timeless silhouette, offering an outdoor design that remains relevant for years to come. With its clean lines and subtle detailing, the Ex series allows the material, extruded aluminum, to take center stage, lending the series its name.

Designed for durability in outdoor settings, Ex Table and Bench effortlessly transition indoors, making them ideal for both residential living spaces and high-traffic areas such as professional canteens and educational facilities

Simon Legald explains “Aluminum’s unique ability to be both lightweight and highly durable makes it the perfect choice for outdoor furniture, while its natural resistance to corrosion and decay ensures it can withstand the elements while retaining the inherent beauty of the material.”

The Ex Table and Bench feature a sleek construction with aluminum profiles placed with a slight gap between each, allowing rainwater to drain easily. Supported by four subtly angled legs, the design balances form and function, creating a visually light yet sturdy outdoor solution.

Ex Table and Bench is scheduled to be available online and in stores from mid-November. Due to current circumstances, delays may occur.
